

Daily Word

A simple way to read through the Bible this year — built by our church, for our church.

We wanted reading Scripture every day to feel less like keeping up with a program and more like opening a well-worn book. So we built Daily Word: a reading plan that lives on our church website, remembers where you are, and meets you each morning with that day's passages — nothing more, nothing less.

You choose what your year looks like. Read the whole Bible cover to cover, stay in the Psalms and Gospels, or start from a proven plan like the M'Cheyne calendar our church has loved for generations — four short readings a day that carry you through the Old Testament once and the New Testament and Psalms twice. Adjust it any time; the plan bends to your life, not the other way around.

HOW IT WORKS

Sign in. Visit the Daily Word page on goodnewsde.com and sign in — same account you already use with the church site. Your plan and progress stay with you on any device.

Build your plan. Pick the parts of the Bible you want and how often. Daily Word turns it into a gentle day-by-day rhythm — most plans land around fifteen or twenty minutes a day.

Read — or listen. Each day's passages open in a clean, quiet reader. Tap play and the Bible is read aloud to you, with the words highlighted as they're spoken — lovely for a commute, a walk, or tired eyes at the end of the day.

Check it off. Mark each reading done and watch your streak grow. Miss a day? A short catch-up list waits without judgment. Grace is built in.

| "Your word is a lamp for my feet, a light on my path."

There's no app to install and nothing to pay — just a page, your plan, and the Word. Whether you've read the Bible through a dozen times or this would be your first, this is your invitation to walk through it with us this year.
